

HERESY HEARING AGAINST BISHOP NOW UNDER WAY

Matter of Jurisdiction Brought Before Bishops Court Before Trial

DEFENSE IS ACTIVE

Trial of Brown Expected to Hit Merry Pace With Preliminaries Off

(By the Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, O., May 28.—Cleared of preliminary technicalities by the overruling of all motions by the defense, the trial of Bishop William M. Brown of the Protestant Episcopal church today moved swiftly and reached the stage of evidence. A formal plea of "not guilty" was entered and Charles C. Biddle of Kalamazoo, Michigan, church advocate, outlined the testimony he expects to present.

The afternoon proceedings were delayed when his counsel announced that the defendant had suffered a slight heart attack during the noon hour.

The hearing proceeded on technical points advanced by the defense.

CLEVELAND, O., May 28.—Jurisdiction of the court of bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church to try the Reverend William M. Brown on charges of uttering doctrines contrary to those held by the church, are unanimously upheld by that body today. The ruling, announced orally and briefly by Bishop John G. Murray, president of the court, did not give the grounds for the decision.

Yesterday's arguments consumed the entire time of the first session of the court. The defense questioned the jurisdiction of the court on the ground that it was not legally constituted, six of its members having been elected at one general convention of the church, instead of three at each general conference as provided by church law.

The right of a bishop or group of bishops to question the doctrines expressed by another bishop was disputed and the further point was made that Bishop Brown gave up his canonical residence when he retired from active work twelve years ago and therefore cannot legally be summoned before any church court.

The defense also advanced the idea that since the church has provided no court of appeals, its machinery for justice is incomplete.

CARRIES BABY WHILE MAKING BANK ROBBERY

(By the Associated Press)

PEORIA, Ill., May 28.—Carrying her two-year-old baby Norma Anderson, 18, late yesterday robbed the Steenberg bank at Farmington, Illinois, of $1158 and forced a taxicab driver, the town marshal's son, to aid her escape to Hanna City where she was arrested and the money recovered.

After fake telephone calls summoned the marshal and police away from Farmington the girl ordered a taxicab and was driven to the bank. She faced Clyde Steenberg, the cashier, with a command to "stick them up," and when he treated the matter as a joke, produced a pistol from a leather holster beneath her blouse. Steenberg filled a sack she placed on the counter, using one dollar bills. The girl shifted the pistol to the hand holding the baby, picked up the sack, and dashed to the waiting taxi.

She contended after she was arrested that she had taken the money because the bank owed her $100 and had refused to pay.

The bank officials asserted she was unknown to them. She is the daughter of Levi Anderson, a highly respected farmer who lives two miles south of Farmington.

Ada Golfers to Invade Green at Holdenville Soon

Ada golfers today accepted a challenge for a return match with the Holdenville club to be played over their course June 8. This will be the first time that the members of the local club have invaded the territory of another club. In the match with the Holdenville club played here in April, the visitors took home the long end of the match score, and it is the hope of the locals to get sweet revenge.

Chairman Alderson, of the tournament committee, requests all members to get scores in to him for qualifying rounds in order that the strongest possible team may be selected to make the trip to Holdenville. Final date for qualifying scores is set at Saturday June 7. Qualifying play will be for 18 consecutive holes.

CLASSES SWELLED IN SUMMER SCHOOL

Musical Activities to be Feature in Program For Summer Session

Heavy enrollment at the college is expected to carry over into next week as delayed students arrive and classify for work during the summer session.

The office force of the school has been so busily engaged in getting the immense numbers of newcomers ready for their classes that they have not had sufficient time in which to check up on the exact enrollment to date. It is believed that the total still runs at least three hundred beyond that of the same time last year, with more still coming in toward the last of the week.

Classes in agriculture, education, history and English have reached such proportions that more divisions must be made by the end of the week.

The students and faculty will assemble in the auditorium at ten o'clock tomorrow morning. There will be assembly singing and the college quartet will sing.

A complete line of musical activities will be open to the students this summer. For instrumental players the orchestra will afford a pleasing course for the summer. The band will be open to call. Mr. Burgess Steed will be in charge of the orchestra.

There will be choruses and glee clubs under the direction of Miss Margery Ballard and frequent assembly singing.

Miss Wilson, sister of E. C. Wilson of the regular faculty, and teacher of English in Enid high school, has been secured to take charge of the classes that were to have been taught by Miss Carney. Miss Wilson has taught here in a former summer session and proved a very popular instructor.

E. E. Emerson, for two years principal of Hayes school here, will be in charge of several classes in education. Mr. Stewart, principal of Okmulgee high school, will arrive Friday to take up his work as special instructor in the college.

A special college talent program will be presented Friday night at the education night at the new First Presbyterian church on South Townsend.

Former Ada Girl Wins Prize For Health Program

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—(Special)—Mollie Russell, first grade teacher at McGuffey school, won first prize of $100 in a health contest conducted in public schools by the Pittsburg Dairy council. The prize was awarded for the most effective health program for the school year. The contest was held in co-operation with the American Child Health association and the local board of education.

The first three winning health outlines of health achievements will be sent to the national contest conducted by the American Child Health association of New York.

The association offers 50 scholarships for the best outlines submitted.

VETERANS DONATE LIBRARY SHELVES

Legion Members Pledge Last Necessity in Offering Library to Public

The Norman Howard post library will soon become a real community asset.

Following the meeting of members of the local legion post, a check-up on the number of bookshelves contributed by members of the post is being made and Commander Robert S. Kerr feels assured that a sufficient number of shelves will be contributed to care for the books donated to the library.

At the meeting last night, Librarian George Overturf announced that approximately 500 books, not including the periodicals and classic magazines that will be contributed each month, had been received.

In order to properly care for the books members of the post agreed to donate shelves for the library, which will be located in the legion rooms.

Ten shelves were donated by legionnaires at the meeting last night and a number of the war veterans not present were expected to increase the number sufficiently to shelve all the books donated.

Librarian Overturf stated that books were being donated to the legion every day and if contributors continue to swell the list of literary works, the post will have one of the most complete collections in place in the state.

The books are being listed and classified and pending arrival of shelves, the library will be opened to the public. Under the care of Librarian Overturf, the library promises to be a real public benefit.

Several Indicted On Charge Using Mails to Defraud

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 28.—William S. Silkworth, former president of the Consolidated Exchange, Louis Gilbrough, a member of the Board of governors, and several other brokers today were indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of having used the mails to defraud.

The others indicted were Dewitt C. Raynor; Blaine J. Nicholas and Earl H. Truesdell, members of the bankrupt brokerage firm of Raynor, Nicholas, and Truesdell; C. Peter Owen, office manager of that firm; and John H. and Edward A. McQuade, brothers, and Francis Quilman, members of the curb brokerage firm of McQuade Brothers.

FORTY-FIVE DEAD IN SOUTH STORMS

Approximately Million Dollar Property Loss Reported In Storm Path

(By the Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Ga., May 28.—The total known death toll of the series of tornadoes which swept the south yesterday and Monday night for the second time in a month had mounted to 45 today. Approximately 100 persons are known to have been injured, scores made homeless, and property damaged to the extent of more than $1,000,000.

Mississippi, with 22 dead and nearly 50 injured, and Alabama with 19 dead and about 50 injured, bore the brunt of the disturbance, which left a path of desolation and ruin in the southern sections of the two states. In Oklahoma, four persons are known to have been killed and six injured, while Arkansas is believed to have escaped with three injured and a minimum property damage.

The storm of three weeks ago originated on the Texas border and left a toll of more than 100 as it swept southeastward. The high winds of this week appear to have divided, one hurling through Mississippi, then jumping southward over Arkansas and into Oklahoma, while the other, with lesser intensity, swept over parts of Georgia, South Carolina, and North Carolina.

Withdraw Objection To Testimony From First Klan Leader

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 28.—All objections were withdrawn today to the appearance of E. Y. Clarke, first chief organizer of the Ku Klux Klan, before a senate committee as a witness in the contest of George B. Peddy, republican, for the seat of Senator Mayfield, democrat, Texas.

Senator Mayfield himself desired that no technical ground should be taken to exclude evidence, his lawyers told the committee. Previously they had argued that Clarke's conviction on a federal charge in Texas had made him incompetent as a witness.

MILE-A-MINUTE MURPHY FINALLY TIRES OF THRILLS

Charles M. "Mile-A-Minute" Murphy and Mrs. Murphy.

Charles M. Murphy, known in the athletic world as "Mile-A-Minute" Murphy and principal of 189 accidents in an eventful career, has left New York, scene of most of his adventures, for Los Angeles and "a rest." Mrs. Murphy accompanied him. Murphy gained fame on June 30, 1899, when on a bicycle he raced a train on a board track for two miles at Babylon, L. I., at the rate of 87 and 4-5 seconds a mile.

COUNTY POLITICAL FIRES SPUTTERING

Next Two Months to See Political Pot Boiling Merrily

The next two months will see the candidates for county offices making their bows to the public. Thus far in the races several candidates are not faced with any opposition and consequently are not expected to put forth such strenuous campaigns.

Others find themselves up against opponents who would take their offices from them and must get out their cards and hit the campaign trail in an effort to acquire enough friends to lead their rivals when the democratic primaries confronts the people on next August 5.

It is not known if others are considering seriously casting their hat into the ring for county office positions but there will be no offices lacking holders.

Representative, commissioners from the second district, court clerk, and tax assessor have as yet attracted announcements from only one candidate, in each case the present incumbent.

A. C. Nabors and W. B. Walker will meet in contest for the office of sheriff. Brumley, Stephens and Heatley will stump their district for the position of commissioner of district number one. Bob Brooks and W. H. Brents will do likewise for district number three.

Mrs. Parrie Britt will again try to wrest from County Superintendent A. Floyd his place at the head of the county school system. Albert Chamberlain will run against J. W. Westbrook, present county treasurer.

WORK PROGRESSING ON CONSTRUCTIONS HERE

Work is progressing rapidly on several construction jobs in the business section of the city. The weather is now more suitable for such work than for the past few months.

Among buildings under construction or in repair is the work on the west Main street where Woolworth will soon put in a store. One section of the building has been practically completed and the other side is being finished up rapidly.

A garage building has just been completed on north Townsend and has been in operation for a week. It is managed by Ducky Hearst and Bill Smith.

Because of delayed materials the construction of a storeroom adjoining R. G. Knott's bakery is held up for a short time. Mr. Knott expects to complete the building within a few weeks.

Actual remodeling of the Masonic building on Broadway has begun. Much of the old building has been torn out and will be replaced by more modern work. Workmen are now engaged in laying a concrete floor to the lower section of the building.

NEW CHASE NOW IN MURDER CASE

Claimed Narcotic Addict Had Part in Murder of Franks Boy

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 28.—Investigation of the death of Robert Franks, 13 year old son of a Chicago millionaire, whose body was found in a railroad culvert last Thursday just before a $10,000 ransom demand was delivered to his parents, assumed a new angle today when officers began rounding up drug addicts for questioning.

Evidence that narcotic users kidnapped the boy at the behest of a well informed principal has been in the hands of the authorities several days, it became known.

"The killing was an accident," states attorney Crowe said, "and everything that followed was undertaken to cover the accident. Drugs will be found at the bottom of it all."

An account of what he believes was the midnight disposal of the boy's body was given to the police yesterday by John H. Shackelford of Gary, Indiana, a railway switchman, and caused the police to search for a green sedan in addition to the gray touring car sought since the boy's disappearance.

Shackelford said he saw a green car last Wednesday night near where the body was found. One of three men in it carried a bundle which he thought may have been the body into the swamp and returned without it. A woman drove the car, he said.

Lone Bandit Hits Banditry Trail on Bank Near Blackwell

(By the Associated Press)

BLACKWELL, Okla., May 28.—A lone bandit robbed the Citizens Bank of Lamont sixteen miles southeast of Blackwell, at 12:30 o'clock today and made away with $1111, according to telephonic advice from Cashier Cowen. The bandit walked into the bank at a time when the streets were practically deserted and commanded Miss Bessie Alvert and a customer to get into the vault. After closing the door of the vault the robber helped himself to all the money in the tills and made his escape in a fast car.

Cashier Cowen came from another room in time to see the bandit leave the bank. The man was unmasked.

NOBLES OF MYSTIC SHRINE TO GATHER

Shriners to Descend on Kansas City For Annual Conclave

(By the Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, May 28.—Lavish preparations for the tidal wave of Shriners, expected to sweep into Kansas City for the Fifth Imperial Session of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, June 3-5, are being made by the nobles of Ararat Temple here. "Hang Your Hat with Ararat" is the slogan broadcast, which the convention committee expects to be taken advantage of by 35,000 wearers of the fez.

More than $300,000 is being expended on decorations, entertainments and features. Between 80 and 90 temples will send their uniformed bodies.

"Pullman yards" will be set up in the railroad yards to house delegations coming on their own special trains. City water and electric lights will be installed, and restaurant and dining car service will be provided conveniently close to the cars. Kansas City hotel men and hundreds of private home owners will care for others.

Sixty-five thousand Shrine convention camel trail markers have been erected along 8,000 miles of highway. They may be seen from Winnipeg to New Orleans and from Los Angeles to Washington, D. C. Local radio stations announce their entire facilities will be turned over to the Shriners. Shrine bands, glee clubs and other entertainers will broadcast for practically three days and nights.

NEW CONGRESSIONAL PROBE ON PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 28.—A brand new congressional investigation, directed at prohibition enforcement, was determined upon today by the house alcoholic liquor traffic committee, which had not previously held a meeting in five years. Acting under its general authority the committee designated a subcommittee with instructions to go into all phases of the liquor law situation, including rum smuggling.

An average of a ship a day was wrecked last year.

STRINGTOWN HIT BY HARD TWISTER

Man and Four Children Killed By Devastating Tornado

(By the Associated Press)

STRINGTOWN, Okla., May 28.—Joseph Jett and four of his children were killed and Mrs. Jett was probably fatally injured by a tornado that demolished their home five miles north of Stringtown late yesterday.

The storm, which was apparently of small scope, killed a number of cattle and horses in the vicinity of the Jett home but no other damage or fatalities were reported.

Physicians and medical supplies were sent to the stricken community from Atoka, the nearest town of importance.

A severe windstorm struck north and west of Tulsa also but little damage was reported. In the vicinity of Claremore there was a hailstorm but the damage was mostly to communication lines.

Twelve persons were in the house when the storm struck. The structure was hurled sixty feet and demolished.

With the exception of the dead and Mrs. Jett none of the occupants of the house was seriously injured.

The electrical display which extended for some hours from the southwest to northeast of the city last night and which attracted considerable attention from residents here, some of whom were rather nervous as a result of the sultry condition of the atmosphere, accompanied the windstorm that swept through this section of Oklahoma.

Most of its damage was done at Stringtown, near Atoka, where a farmer and four children were killed. Some property damage was also done near Tulsa.

MEMORIAL DAY PLANS COMPLETED AT MEETING

Plans were completed last evening at the regular meeting of the members of the Norman Howard post, American Legion, for the local veterans observance Memorial Day on Friday of this week.

Veterans have been named to attend to the decoration of the Memorial Convention Hall and later the graves of veterans of all wars.

A committee will collect flowers grown locally and contributed to the cause and use them in the decoration of the Convention Hall for the services at 2 o'clock Friday and transplant the floral tributes on the graves of war heroes resting in Roseadale cemetery. While the graves of World war veterans grouped in the Legion plot, at the cemetery will be given first attention, graves of Civil and Spanish war veterans will receive the same tender care at the hands of local veterans.

Prior to the decoration of graves a fitting program in commemoration of those who died in the service of their country will be rendered at the Convention Hall with A. Linsehold, president of East Central, scheduled for the address of the occasion.

JAPANESE RESENT U.S. IMMIGRATION EXCLUSION STEPS

Formal Protest Acknowledged By Prince Regent at Tokio

OFFICIALS SILENT

Declare No Comment Will be Made Until Japanese Reply Is Studied

(By the Associated Press)

TOKIO, May 28.—Deep regret that the United States has accepted the immigration bill including a clause barring Japanese is expressed in a statement issued late today by the foreign office.

TOKIO, May 28.—Foreign Minister Matsui today asked and obtained the assent of the prince regent to the forwarding of Japan's protest against America's announcement of the immigration bill barring Japanese. The proceedings were extraordinary and are interpreted as indicating unusual importance as being attached to the document.

The foreign minister went to the imperial palace immediately after the extraordinary cabinet session called yesterday to give final approval to the protest had ended. The regent sanctioned the protest. The protest was placed upon the cable for transmission to Ambassador Hanhara at Washington shortly after the foreign minister had left the imperial palace. The ambassador will deliver it to Secretary Hughes. The foreign office announced it would issue a statement at 5:30 p. m.

Foreign Minister Matsui, after the protest was dispatched, received Japanese newspaper men and urged them to exercise moderation and restraint in their accounts and comments, regarding the exclusion matter.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Until Japan's protest against the new immigration law has been subjected to a painstaking study no responsible official here will comment on it.

In view of the unusual importance attached to the note in Tokio, the president and Secretary Hughes are anxious that the subject shall not be complicated by any premature expression of opinion.

The administration regards the question of regulating immigration as a domestic one, but at the same time desires that in the application of that principle, as little offense as possible be given to friendly government.

Consequently high officials here are deeply regretful that a sequence of events accompanying enactment of the new law have developed what Tokio appears to regard as a serious issue. There is every hope that this situation will be softened appreciably when the full and mature attitude of the Japanese government becomes known here.

Throughout consideration of the Japanese exclusion here all of those responsible for direction of America's foreign affairs have refrained from expressions which might make the international issue more acute. So in the present stage of the controversy officials take the view that comment on the Japanese protest in advance of a study of it would only serve to belittle the situation and might lead to misinterpretation and misunderstanding.

In that same way officials both at the white house and state department are silent regarding reports that Japanese ambassador Hanhara, a leading figure in the discussion, soon is to be transferred to another post. The Japanese embassy naturally declines to discuss these reports, but there is no disposition to question the clear implications from Tokio that a change of ambassadors is in prospect.

LEGION AUXILIARY TO CONDUCT POPPY SALE

"A poppy in every button hole on Memorial Day," is the slogan adopted by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Norman Howard post, American Legion.

This organization of lady helpers in the legion program will have complete charge of the sale of 1-100 poppies to the male population of Ada on Friday of this week.

The Auxiliary, under the direction of Mrs. Clarence West, will erect booths in the business section of Ada and offer poppies, the Legion flower, to the male population of Ada.

Through the sale of 1100 poppies, the local legion post expects to give valuable assistance to the disabled veterans in the state hospitals, since the bulk of the funds collected through the poppy sale will revert to that source.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

O LORD, THOU ART MY GOD; I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things. . . . Thou hast been a strength to the poor, a strength to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat.—Isaiah 25:1, 4.

THE TEXT BOOK COMMISSION.

No Oklahoma governor has ever possessed the faculty of making excellent appointments to the same degree as Governor Trapp, and without reflecting on the many excellent men and women he has heretofore called to positions of responsibility it may be said that the governor raised his own high standard appreciably when he named the state text book commission. Not since the advent of statehood has a better personnel been assembled for official service.

It is unfortunate that Dr. Claxton considered himself ineligible for service and declined the appointment tendered by Governor Trapp, for he is easily one of the foremost school men in America. However, a commission containing such outstanding names as those of W. W. Whelan and A. Linscheid will loom exceedingly large in public estimation. There are no stronger figures in the educational field of the southwest. While their coadjutors are not so well known in the country at large, they enjoy splendid reputations in their own communities and are well qualified to render excellent service in the difficult position to which they have been called.

From the beginning of state government here in Oklahoma the selection of text-books has been a vexatious exasperating task. Every adoption thus far made has called for criticism and dissatisfaction. However able the commissioners may have been and however honestly they may have striven to serve the state they have invariably been subjected to reproof and in more than one instance to suspicion. It is therefore the more reassuring to read the list of names selected for the new commission, names that are an absolute guaranty of disinterested and honest service.

In practically every appointment the governor has made he has registered 100 percent. His record in this respect is all but remarkable. It might be pardonable to remark in this connection that about all the real trouble the governor has yet encountered has been political and not official.—Daily Oklahoman.

THE CRITIC.

"How alike we all are after all. The same spirit of criticism which we dislike in others we find in ourselves."

These sentences were uttered by a person after he had been shown that statements he had made were absolutely false. He was not justifying himself, but he simply stated as a matter of fact one of the main traits of human beings.

If we would but realize that what we criticize others for we ourselves are probably more guilty of, we should have a better world in which to live. The autocrat criticizes the autocrat. The dictator criticizes the dictator. The religiously jealous criticizes the same thing in another. The world needs more brotherly love, more consideration for the other fellow's ideas and ideals. In other words, we should stop saying the other fellow is a rascal unless we know it and then only when the information is needed to protect another.

The time has come to build some permanent roads in this section. Our county commissioners are working on the matter. Soon more money will be available, and we believe that before frost is again on the pumpkin we shall have a program of highway construction under way. It is impossible to keep all the roads in good condition. The thing to do is to build some and then get to the others as fast as we can. Our commissioners are doing their best to get a constructive program started.

The naming of President Linscheid as a member of the text-book commission will prove a blessing to the state. He knows the various books, the needs of the pupils and the use the books are to be put to. We do not know the other members of the commission, but if they are in the same class with our fellow townsman, we can expect wise selections and the selections will be made with one aim in view, the welfare of the school children of this state.

We hope Mayor Jones succeeds in his worthy efforts to stop the molestation of girls by would-be mashers. Probably a few swift kicks from some decent man would help the matter too. The fellow who has no more sense and no more respect for the common decencies of society than to make improper offers to girls needs a spell in jail or the old fashioned whipping post.

Every one should get behind Mayor Jones in his effort to clean up the city physically. We must not have weeds and mosquitoes. At the same time we must not neglect the moral issues. Between living in a town dirty and one morally unclean, we'll take the dirty town. Let's have it clean in every way.

As long as President Coolidge vetoes bills and congress overrides said vetoes, the Republican party will have an alibi that will fit all occasions.

THE ADA EVENING NEWS

ROYAL JOURNALISTS

(New York Times)

Royalty is rather out of fashion, but conservatives may be pardoned for taking a certain interest in Hussein Ibn Ali, King of Hejaz. He is not only a soldier, but a man of law and a profound theologian. He is a father of Kings. One of his boys is Feisal of Iraq. Another, the Amir Abdullah, is sovereign of Transjordan. When the old man visits them, or they visit him, he puts them in their place, like the good old Arabian patriarch he is. He orders them about as if they were infants. He is a curious combination of the ancient Sacred King and the cosmopolitan modern prince. He belongs, so to speak, to the Mecca-Paris line.

Alone among secular sceptre-bearers he preserves an immemorial taboo. Nobody may see him eat. And yet his telephone call is "No. 1 Mecca," and such an Arabian Sir Oracle is he that when he takes down his receiver every other telephone is "automatically disconnected." His talk, like his food, is strictly confidential. His wireless station near Mecca is one of the most powerful known. According to a prepossessing legend, he once stirred up such a tempest in the ether, making some heated observations to an erring subject, that remote British warships in the Red Sea were cut off from wireless communication until his Majesty had uttered the thoughts that arose in him.

But the chief reason why our "heart goes out," as our statesmen say, to Brother Hussein is that he is a newspaper man. According to a correspondent of The London Times, he "is not only editor in chief of El Kibla, the official organ of the Hejazi Government, but often actually writes the leading articles and generally makes a point of reading the whole newspaper in proof. The reading and correcting of Arabic galley proofs is a matter of no small technical nicety, and both King Hussein and his heir apparent, the Amir Ali, have been seen in their tents at Shunah, hard at work with fountain pens improving the grammar, polishing the periods and perfecting the stops of the next issue of El Kibla."

What was the phoenix, sole-sitting and dying to the fragrance of cassia and frankincense, to this nobler "Arabian bird," scratching hieroglyphics in his tent proofroom? If worst comes to worst, and their Hashemite Majesties have to emigrate, they can find employment at their trade down Washington Street way.

Know the Candidates.

(Ardmoreite)
Nearly all of the candidates and but few of the voters attended the campaign opening at Newport Saturday. Every voter should have been there.

It is reaching that stage of the political game when voters should become acquainted with the candidates, the players. The voter should know the candidate like the fan knows members of a ball team.

Just because a candidate makes boasts about himself in the newspapers and at political gatherings is no revelation of his true character. He may be unfitted for the office and even his home town folk are not supporting him, yet he will rant and rave about his qualities.

Everything that is read in the newspapers about a candidate cannot be accepted in the whole—the candidate pays for many of his stories and has the privilege of saying many nice things about himself.

Therefore, it behooves the voters to come in personal contact with those who seek the high positions and who hope to attend to the affairs of the public.

During the coming months the rallies should be attended; every candidate should be called upon to tell the truth about himself and not slander and criticize his opponent.

If the wrong man is put in office, the voter has only himself or herself to blame. Now is the time to study your candidate.

MUCH PORTO RICAN MOLASSES COMING TO UNITED STATES

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico.—Four million gallons of molasses, approximately one-quarter of the estimated production of the island this year will go into "home consumption" according to reports from centrals. The centrals will produce something like 16,000,000 gallons of blackstrap molasses, it is estimated, of which probably 12,000,000 gallons will be exported chiefly to the United States for manufacturing purposes, principally stock feed and alcohol.

Of the 4,600,000 gallons left for "home consumption" it is likely that about one-half will be fed to cattle leaving 2,000,000 gallons to go to bootleggers. Four gallons of molasses will, properly persuaded, produce one gallon of alcohol. On this basis the alcohol production will be in the neighborhood for a half million gallons.

Germany imported 483,268 metric tons of petroleum products during 1923, of which 61.7 percent came from the United States.

How to build up your Weight

TO be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus vitality.

It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus.

That's why S.S.S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S.S.S. will build them.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

TRIBESMAN'S REVERENCE SAVES CHIEF'S LIFE

(By the Associated Press)

HONOLULU.—The wheels of progress were halted here recently while enforced homage was paid by workmen to the memory of an all but forgotten chieftain of Hawaii, and the desecration of his ashes was rendered impossible.

In the path of a dredger which has been constructing a drainage canal there stood a house inhabited by an old Hawaiian and his wife. They were warned to vacate as the dredger approached their small hold ing.

For Justice of the Peace, Ada Township—
H. J. BROWN, (Re-election)

They refused to leave. After several days of argument it was found that their refusal was based upon the fact that their house was on an old burial ground and that the bones of a great chief and a dozen of his relatives were underground. The old people would not leave the spot until they had seen the removal of the bones of the "alii" and his relatives, and their re-interment in some more peaceful spot. The board of health was consulted. A permit to dig up the bones was granted. An undertaker removed the remains from the earth, and the dredger continued on its way through the ancient cemetery.

How to Avoid Grade Crossing Accidents

Automobile drivers, when approaching railroad crossings, should go into second speed. Then look and listen. Absolute control thus is assured. Stop or go ahead, as conditions warrant.

During 1923 one hundred and three persons were killed and four hundred seventy-four injured at highway crossings on the Santa Fe Railway.

These regrettable accidents might have been avoided if these motorists had been careful.

The rapid increase in these grade-crossing accidents is due to the greatly increased and general use of the automobile in the hands of drivers ignorant or willfully disregardful of the perils which attend careless driving. Sometimes it is the careless driver alone who pays the penalty, but usually innocent ones pay it in part or entirely.

Automobiles should be safer at railroad crossings than horses, because they are urged to give this "Safety First" suggestion most earnest consideration. Better be safe than sorry.

do not become frightened and are better controlled; but the opposite seems to be the case. An experienced driver of horses describes the proper method of approaching a railroad crossing as follows: "Gather up the reins tight, take out the whip, and bring the horses to a walk." An experienced automobilist advises: "Always go into second speed."

The method is precisely the same in either case. The driver has absolute control, can stop or go ahead as conditions demand, and is alert to the situation.

If all drivers would but adopt this simple rule and adhere to it faithfully the problem would be solved. What a saving there would be of priceless human life, of grief-torn, ambitions wrecked, and hopes lost forever!

FEELS HER STRENGTH RETURNING EVERY DAY

MRS. Chas. Purcell, who has lived at 802 S. Hudson street for the past seventeen years, is another highly esteemed Oklahoma City resident to add her voice to the many thousands who are praising the celebrated new medicine, Karnak.

"Karnak has been so wonderful in my case I want to tell others about it," says Mrs. Purcell. "For the past two years I was not only without any appetite but everything I ate would upset my stomach awfully. After every meal I would bloat with gas and feel so depressed that I was just miserable. My general health was very poor too, and I was so rundown I scarcely had any strength at all.

"I am just on my third bottle of Karnak now and it has given me a splendid appetite and fixed me up so I can eat anything I want without being bothered with indigestion or bloating. My strength is rapidly returning every day and I feel like an entirely different person. Karnak is the grandest medicine made and nothing I can say is too good for it."

Karnak is sold in Ada exclusively at Gwin & Mays and in Stonewall at Chas. Burnett's.—Adv.

WOMEN CAMPAIGN TO SAVE FUR ANIMALS

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 18.—A campaign to restrict the power of Dame Fashion, who for "mere decoration" compels the extermination of whole species of fur-bearing animals, was launched to night by the American Blue Cross Society with headquarters at Springfield, Mass., and the New York Women's League for Animals.

Underskirts of monkey fur, fans of ermine tails and lace, the parasol which when closed appears to be a bunch of folded ermine with an ornament of tortoise shell that represents the kitten's nose, are listed by the societies as bizarre fads which are causing needless destruction and cruelty.

The Blue Cross campaign against the summer fur craze a year ago was effective, Miss Maud Phillips of Springfield, president of the society, said, but the fashion of wearing furs for mere decoration has increased "that fur is being cut and handled as if it were fabric and not the God-given skin of an animal."

Novelties like the ermine cape, described as having a "wide rippling circular flounce that begins at the neckline and runs all the way around a train-like back," or white fox fur collars to set off organdy are denounced as wholly unnecessary fads.

The societies urge nation-wide participation in the campaign by clubs and associations and legislation prohibiting the setting of traps except during a short season when fur is at its best.

Among the officers of both organizations which are taking an active interest in the drive are Mrs. Edith Wharton, Mrs. Lewis Gouverneur Morris, Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Harry G. Fisk and Mrs. M. Orme Wilson.

OIL NEWS

Ed Gillette and Robert Galbraith are about ready to start work on their test just west and north of Ada. The material ought to be coming in within a short time. A few titles are yet to get straight and then the operators ought to be off for another good test in the shadow of the city buildings.

The showing of gas in the Hughes well east of the city is causing some interest in that section. The fact that Lloyd got oil at 1200 feet south of the Hughes location and another showing was found a day or two ago keeps oil men interested in the territory east of Ada.

Bowles and Smith in section 34-5-6 are in the same condition they have been for three weeks. The well is on top of what has the appearance of a sand. It is not known what time it will be drilled in.

LONDON.—Tired of luxurious motorcars, many members of London's smart set are returning to the horse carriage for shopping purposes and for driving in the park. Many smart equipages are seen every day in Bond street, Mayfair and the park with high stepping horses, as in the Victorian era.

A well-known coach owner, who regularly drives four horses in his coach, expressed the opinion that the carriage horse is coming back into favor. Many people are bringing their horses up to town from their country residences he said, and others are hiring carriages and horses in preference to motorcars.

GERMAN BUSINESS CAUGHT IN WEDGE

High Interest and Small
Credit Plays Havoc
With Business

(By the Associated Press)
BERLIN—Interest rates in Germany under the present uncertain financial condition vary from 2 to 3 percent monthly. Furthermore, the amount of credit available for manufacturers and agriculturists is greatly limited by the restricted circulation of rentenmarks, which must be kept low to prevent the rentenmark from collapsing as did the paper mark.

So all in all the German manufacturer, farmer or merchant who is in need of a loan to carry on his operations, finds himself in great difficulty.

Few manufacturers can purchase raw materials, make them up, market and collect on the product in less than two months. Money borrowed for such an operation adds tremendously to the cost. Merchants everywhere are marking up their stocks and making the public bear the burden, even on stocks obtained before the rentenmark was placed on a solid basis.

The shoe industry in Germany is especially handicapped by the high interest rates. During the period when the paper mark was making its spectacular fall, dealers stocked up with shoes at very low prices. Warehouses were filled with them and the markets were glutted. Consequently the manufacturers had to shut down. Now there is a demand for seasonable shoes of late style to freshen up the accumulated stocks of shoe dealers, but money is so dear that manufacturers cannot finance their operations.

Interest rates, high taxes and uncertainty of the financial situation are advanced by merchants as the reasons for the extremely high prices asked for almost all manufactured articles in Germany. Dr. Schacht, president of the Reichsbank and directors of currency, fully realizes the great handicap imposed on industries by the strict limitation of credits. But he says the rentenmark cannot be kept stable if credits are not carefully restricted, and he believes the republic as a whole will do better with stable money and restricted credits than it would with a falling currency.

Tool Dresser Proves Nerve by Descent Into Oil Well; Wins Girl

OKMULGEE—(Special)—“Bill” Jones, Okmulgee tool dresser, not only saved the day for the Cree Drilling company, which was having hard luck getting the hole started for Shaffer Oil and Refining company's No. 2, but made good with his sweetheart when he went down a 20-inch hole a distance of 290 feet and straightened a heavy bit.

“Bill” was keeping up steam and doing errands for the driller who was somewhat irritated because they had been fighting a fishing job for days. A heavy bit had jumped the pin and was lost in the hole. Now Bill remembered that his sweetheart, an Okmulgee girl, had accused him of having no gumption, and had declared that when a brave man was needed, there was no use calling for Bill.

Bill Resents Accusation.

This brought resentment and seared his soul. He would show her when the time came. As Bill turned on more gas to get up steam an idea came to him. The contractor was worrying over the lost bit when Bill walked up and offered to go down in the hole. The heavy piece of steel was jammed in the side of the wall and no fishing hook known could get a grab on it unless it was standing straight.

“Let me go down with a rope,” said Bill, “and I will straighten it up.”

“If you can do the trick you will save us some money,” said the boss man.

Then Down He Goes.

A rope was fastened around Jones body, and he placed a bucket over his head to keep the cavings and rocks from falling in on him. A series of signals were agreed upon. Bill was gradually lowered in the hole. He went in feet first and when he reached the bottom and dug the bit from the side of the wall he gave the rope a jerk. The crew began pulling him out. When he was half way up the hole he jerked at the rope again and yelled to let him down to the bottom again.

“Lower the rope,” yelled the boss contractor. And Bill Jones was again lowered to the bottom of the hole. This time he gave the final signal and was pulled to the top.

“She's straightened up,” said Bill. “You ought to go down with a horn socket now and hook right on.”

The socket was strung up and in just a short time they brought the big bit from the hole.

The head of the drilling company then wrote out a check for $100 and presented it to Bill Jones.

“Young man,” I want to ask you a question,” said the driller. “Why did you signal to be let down the second time after we had you half way up the hole?”

“Well, you see, I dropped my hat, and wanted to go back after it,” said Bill.

Then Jones came to town, changed from his field clothes to his glad rags and called on his girl. He showed her the $100 check and told her how he had earned it. She retracted all she had said about Bill's cranery. She did something else, calling Bill an old dear, but just what it was is not to be told to the public.

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS TO MEET NEXT IN VIRGINIA

CHICAGO, May 27.—Seventy-nine Holstein cows have made yearly records of more than 1,000 pounds butterfat, and 54 cows of the same breed have in one year produced 30,000 pounds and more of milk. It will be shown in reports to be made at the convention of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, to be held July 4 at Richmond, Virginia.

In an announcement from headquarters here, made by President Frank O. Lowden, the business of the association for the last fiscal year shows an increase and a sound financial basis, although decreases in business were shown for the previous successive three years.

“Since 1885, when the association was organized more than 1,200,000 cows and bulls have been registered in the Herd Book. Creditable records for production of milk and butterfat have been made by more than 100,000 cows under the supervision of agricultural colleges and recorded in the Advanced Registry.”

A national sale of 120 purebred Holsteins will follow the meeting.

MEMORIAL ERECTED TO AIRSHIP WRECK VICTIMS

(By the Associated Press)
HULL, England, May 9.—The memory of the little band of English and American sailors who were killed when the airship R-38 was destroyed at Hull, will be kept alive by a memorial erected in the western cemetery here by the British air ministry. The memorial is a pedestal surmounted by an eagle and occupies a plot of ground where six of the victims are buried.

Sir Vyell Vyvyan, air vice-marshal representing the air ministry at the unveiling, in an address said it was a consolation to know that upon this common sacrifice was founded a bond of sympathy and mutual understanding between the United States and Great Britain.

Captain Hussey, United States naval attaché in London, represented his government and the American ambassador. He paid a tribute to those who died in the disaster, treating them a sacrifice to the future generations to whom aircraft would be a source of strength and protection.

At the conclusion of the ceremony wreaths were placed on the graves of the men by the lord mayor and sheriffs of the Corporation of Hull.

MEDICAL MEN OF AMERICA TO MEET

Forward Strides of Science Of Medicine to be Reviewed

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 27.—The forward strides of the science of medicine in the last year will be surveyed by thousands of American physicians who will attend the annual session of the American Medical Association to be held on the Municipal Pier this week of June 2.

Various state and national health associations will have statistical and public health displays. The federal government will be represented in three exhibits, given by the departments of agriculture, interior, and public health.

The official scientific meetings will be divided into 16 sections covering all of the medical specialties. In the section on medicine, special attention is to be paid to progress in the treatment of diabetes with insulin, and to the treatment of heart disease and closely related conditions. In the section on surgery, virtually every field of operation on the human body will be discussed. Obstetrics, eye, nose and throat specialists and authorities on the disease of children will reflect their progress in addresses and clinics.

The sections on the use of drugs and on preventive and industrial medicine will confine one meeting to discussions on modern methods of resuscitation after gas poisoning and electric shock, and also on the prevention of lead poisoning in modern industries.

Two other sessions will be concerned with modern anesthesia, including papers on painless childbirth and the use of ethylene. Another special meeting will be devoted to the more advanced aspects of the use of the X-ray. The program includes about three hundred papers.

Many distinguished medical men of foreign countries will be present and each will bring an important record of medical achievement.

Cocos Island Treasure Hunt Falls to Find Hidden Gold

(By the Associated Press)

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 28.—Reports received here indicate that the efforts of the little steamer Gunner, which sailed from Vancouver last winter for Cocos Island in the Indian Ocean in search of chests of gold supposed to have been hidden in that vicinity by revolutionaries many years ago, have been unsuccessful.

The expeditions carried all necessary working implements, including a metal detector, an invention of a Vancouver man. The detector was truthful in pointing to metal, great masses of which were uncovered. But it was the debris of some previous treasure-hunters expedition, iron shovels, tin cans, wheelbarrows, pick-axes and so forth.

The search was pressed until supplies ran low, forcing the fortune-hunters to sail for Vancouver. They are expected here late in May.

Church of Christ Meeting Continues To Attract Meetings

The evangelistic meetings at the Church of Christ continues with interest. Evangelist C. L. Wilkerson used as his subject yesterday evening, "Does It Make Any Difference What We Believe?" Some selections from the sermon are given.

"In the business world many examples are in evidence, proving that beyond doubt it makes difference what we believe. Men have lost possessions; armies have lost in battle, and nations have lost in prestige all because of the belief of a falsehood.

"The historical account of the young prophet of Judah in believing the lie of the old prophet of Bethel in much in evidence. The many words of warning coming from our Savior, pointing out the coming of false prophets and that the blind lead the blind they shall both fall into the ditch; all prove that it makes much difference what we believe.

Subject for this evening at 8 o'clock "Belief vs. Unbelief."

Sleeping Sickness Increasing.

LONDON—Sleeping sickness is rapidly increasing in this country, and 649 cases were notified by doctors in the first three weeks of April against 468 in March, 217 in February and 75 in January.

While investigations into the cause of the disease are being carried out by the Medical Research Council, doctors admit they do not know either a cure or any means of preventing the spread. Large towns appear to be more affected than rural districts and the disease seems to spread westward.

A medical officer of health says from one-fourth to one-half of the patients die and not many of the remainder have, so far, completely recovered.

ST. LOUIS OPEN-AIR THEATRE PROVES FINANCIAL SUCCESS

(By the Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, May 28.—To those few civic spirited men who but five years ago conceived the idea of a theatre under the stars, where all might enjoy the best of light musical entertainment at nominal cost, has come the satisfaction of witnessing the remarkable growth of the St. Louis municipal open-air opera, the only venture of its kind in the country. Other cities are now considering similar enterprises.

The ten weeks cycle of summer entertainment is no longer a doubtful venture here, for the Municipal Theatre Association has proved its financial soundness by turning in a net profit last season of $25,000.

ALL OUT OF SORTS?

So Was This Ada Woman Who Tells Her Experiences.

All too often women accept their pains and aches as natural to their sex. They fail to realize that weak kidneys are often to blame for that backache, those headaches, dizzy spells and that tired, depressed feeling. Thousands have found new health and strength by helping the weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. This Ada case is one of many:

"Mrs. S. D. Lewis, 119 W. 6th st. 'The flu left my kidneys weak and I suffered from severe aches and pains all through me. I also had rheumatic twinges in my back and hips and, my back was lame too. I took Doan's Pills and they did wonders for me. I am pleased to recommend them.'"

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Lewis had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

"It says this," answered Scissors, snatching up the knife. A guard lunged forward to pluck it from his hand and found it empty. Crazy Horse called out for the man to desist. Now undisturbed Scissors made the knife appear and disappear with bewildering rapidity. He seemed to pull it from his ear, his leg, and to spit it from his mouth. It vanished for the last time only to appear from over his right shoulder, whirling rapidly and striking on its point in the wolf robe near the foot of Sorrel Horse.

Before the medicine man could say more of his magic the white man held up a small square of paper in his left hand. Then he waved his scissors above his head, while the nimble fingers of the left hand folded the paper several times. Then advancing the paper toward Crazy Horse he daintily snipped off a protruding corner. Opening the paper he revealed that the one movement of the blades cut out a perfect star of five points. Until the simple trick was explained it must remain a big mystery to the wondering spectators, and a mystery is always wakan, therefore a medicine.

Especially did it appeal to Crazy Horse, inasmuch as the star reminded him of General Crook, or Three Stars. And how could one stroke of the two blades cut it out? His face was somber as he turned to Sorrel Horse and asked:

"Is there more medicine?"

Sorrel Horse, now desperate in his desire to prove the superiority of his magic, replied:

"Let Shunika-luta and the white man be tied fast and placed in a lodge together. We will see whose medicine comes first to take off the rawhide."

Those warriors who had come with Crazy Horse were elated over this proposed test. But Little Big Man and his braves were much concerned. They had said nothing to Crazy Horse or the medicine man about Scissors' ability to free his hands from bonds. But as they remembered that the presence of Shunika-luta should render futile any such power they became more optimistic.

It was Little Big Man who superintended the tying up of the two men. They were bound with many lengths of rawhide. Crazy Horse himself inspected the things to make sure they were right, and he directed that certain knots in the cords of Sorrel Horse be made more secure.

If a medicine was worthy of a man's devotion it needed no assistance from mortals. Scissors read the dismay in Dinsdale's face and murmured:

"The more rope the better. Four feet would be harder to get out of than a dozen."

With the last knot tied the two men were carried into the prisoners' lodge and laid on robes with the center pole between them. Then they were left and the flap was drawn tightly and pegged to the ground. The assemblage considered this the supreme test, and each warrior waited in breathless expectancy. Sorrel Horse was famous for being a defter of knots. Some of the warriors knew the white man had slipped his wrist things, but conditions were no longer the same.

Not only had much more cord been used, but the tying of the knots had been under the supervision of the red man's invisible helpers. Tunkan had sent his subordinates to protect his child. True, the white man had made stone offerings to Tunkan, but the red children were ever first in the heart of the stone god.

Almost as soon as the flap had been secured there came the sound of voices from the lodge, and neither white nor red man was speaking. There was only one explanation—help for the red man had arrived from Mato Tipl. One voice was high and squeaky and had been heard before when Sorrel Horse was in a trance in search of enlightenment. One voice rumbled and was quite terrifying to those grouped outside the lodge. The last would be a very mighty spirit. The side of the lodge next to the half-circle became agitated. The covering of hide shook and bulged outward and then sucked in. The voices increased in volume and gave the impression the white man's medicine was making a strong fight. Then the flap was shaken violently, and the spectators drew in their heels, ready to jump up and run if the battle was transferred to the open.

Those outside were at the peak of their excitement and were having difficulty in controlling themselves as they waited for the climax, when the voices suddenly ceased. The agitation of the lodge ceasing. Only a deep groaning was to be heard. This groaning kept up for a minute or two, and yet nothing decisive happened. The spell was shattered by a voice behind the seated warriors calling out:

"His medicine has failed, they say. They say it is really very weak."

Dinsdale stifled back a cheer. The Indians jerked their heads about as one and were nonplused to behold the white man standing on the outer fringe of the massed group. This stupor gave way to a desire for action, and with a yell several of the men leaped to their feet and would have laid violent hands on Scissors had not Crazy Horse loudly commanded:

"Do not touch the white man. He is not running away. Open the lodge."

Scissors advanced to the medicine pole and seated himself beside Dinsdale. Little Big Man pulled up the pegs and threw back the flap. Sorrel Horse was flat on his back in his original position, and thoroughly helpless. It was most amazing. Scissors took advantage of the moment to whisper:

"Almost beat me. Nip and tuck. If Crazy Horse hadn't made them tighten up some of his knots he would have won. Once I was loose I fixed him up stronger than ever. That's what took me so long."

"So long! It was all over in no time. Why didn't some one see you come out?" muttered Dinsdale.

With a chuckle Scissors explained: "I shook the flap and got every one to watching it. Then I slipped out the back side and ran around behind the lodges."

Sorrel Horse was released. His face was deadly with hate as he got on his feet. He would not divulge that certain extra and very stubborn knots found in his things had been tied by Scissors. He preferred to explain that the white man's medicine had been allowed to appear the stronger because the red medicine was displeased at the Indian's soft treatment of the white man.

"Why should Tunkan help the red man against the white when the white man is taken by the hand and called Kola?" he sullenly asked.

This defense was perfectly logical in the minds of the majority of the red men, and more than one hand closed on a skinning knife in a lust to make a fitting sacrifice to the stone god. But Crazy Horse never lost sight of the main point. He spoke up sharply, saying:

"These men speak with a straight tongue, and their medicine will help us—or else they are liars and their medicine will grow very weak. We must find out if the young man is a friend of High Wolf, our brother of the Cheyenne. If he is then Two Knives Talking has talked with a straight tongue and his medicine will help us against Three Stars and his soldiers."

"Let Little Big Man pick out two young braves who want new names, and tell them to ride swiftly to the Short Medicine Pole hills and look for High Wolf. If High Wolf is not at the hills the two men will wait three sleeps, then one shall ride to Slim butte to tell me. The other will wait three sleeps more and if High Wolf does not come, nor any soldiers are seen to be watched, then he will ride to my village."

"This place is not good for camp. Little Big Man has been very brave in going to Mato Tipl. Now let the camp move to Slim butte; for they say we shall have a big fight with Three Stars before many sleeps. Watch these two men, but do not put cords on Two Knives Talking. He will not run away and leave his friend; nor has his medicine the strength to take the rawhide off his friend yet."

Dinsdale was much discouraged when this was repeated to him, but Scissors optimistically declared: "Even if old High Wolf is among the hills, as Crazy Horse seems to expect, the ride is more than a hundred miles from here. They'll go through flying unless something happens to them, but we haven't been skinned yet. So long as we can hope, we're all right. I'm wakan. I'm wakan with a sha. Don't look downhearted. Look jolly. That's better. You're a friend of High Wolf, remember. He'll vouch for you. You're just hungry for him to show up."

Dinsdale was taken back into the lodge and tied to the center pole. Scissors was left free but under sharp espionage. Either Crazy Horse had no fear of his trying to escape so long as his friend was a prisoner, or else he wished to tempt him to flight, and thereby prove all his words were so many lies. Scissors refrained from even moving about the camp, and from his position in the opening of the lodge kept his companion informed of all that was going on outside.

Two ambitious young bucks were soon speeding north in search of High Wolf, who was believed to be somewhere in the neighborhood of the Short Medicine Pole hills. A few hours after their departure word was given to strike the lodges and pack them on travois poles. Dinsdale's shelter was the last to be taken down. He was mounted on his own horse with his hands still fastened behind him. Scissors was commanded to ride at the front of the band with Crazy Horse on one side and Little Big Man on the other. Sorrel Horse loitered behind to have a private conference with his medicine.

A monotonous ride of twenty-five miles, almost due north, brought Slave butte abreast on the right. After the first few miles Crazy Horse had evidenced a willingness to talk with his prisoner and was ready to answer questions. He took much pleasure in describing how some Snake captives were killed at Slave butte by the Dakota in the old days, thereby originating the name, and added that much had been learned since then as to the most painful method of putting prisoners to death.

Scissors appeared greatly pleased by the gruesome recital and refused to betray any concern over the veiled threat as to his own possible fate. Although the top of the butte was about the same height as that of Mato Tipl its actual elevation above its base was less than three hundred feet owing to the sharp upgrade from the Belle Fourche.

No shelters were put up and after a meal of jerked meat guards were posted and the men rolled up in their blankets. Scissors was not tied, and Dinsdale was secured only by his legs. From the chief down to the youngest buck it was firmly believed that thoughts of rawhide could not hold Scissors, and as an extra precaution against his attempting flight Sorrel Horse offered to stand watch over him. Nor could there have been a more zealous guard, for whenever the picture man opened his eyes it was to find the baleful orbs of the medicine man staring at him.

When they resumed their journey in the morning the course still held northerly, and Crazy Horse informed Scissors they were to pass through Prospect valley between the Short Pine hills, and then turn east and skirt the bad lands and make a hard ride of some forty miles before reaching the Slim butte village. The chief seemed to be very confident that his village was inaccessible for the soldiers, should they ever come.

Farmers' Column

By—
Byron Norrell

A day or two ago I dropped around to see Floyd Anderson, a former service man, on his little farm a mile east of Oakman. After a course in vocational training at the A. and M. college, Floyd decided to specialize on poultry and he is making good. He told me that his first attempt with his incubator was not very successful, but his second trial was decidedly better. The incubator is now going for the third time and in the light of his past experience, he thinks he will have good luck this time. He has also put out some fruit trees and grapes and expects to add quite a bit to these.

I took a short tramp to the country a day or two ago and found crop conditions as good as one could expect in view of the unfavorable weather. Some corn is looking fairly well and cotton seemed to be somewhat spotted. In some fields there was a good stand and in others it appeared that a fair stand will soon be up as a result of the shower of Monday night. In some I could not tell whether the stand failed or had not had time to come up. I saw one man planting. It is generally agreed that the last shower will do a considerable amount of good.

J. L. Boring of Pecan Grove is a strong believer in bermuda grass for pasture. He claims that an acre will keep a cow and has quite a bit on his farm. From experience I know it is hard to beat for pasture, especially in this country where the soil washes so badly. On my little place south of town one can see a striking difference in places where there is grass to hold the soil and where there is none.

Horse Theft Serious Act in Oklahoma

Horse theft is a serious charge in Oklahoma.

Despite the fact that the era of sudden hangings and posse executed laws concerning the stealing of a mare of a number of the same has passed from the modern chapters of Oklahoma history, horse stealing should still receive the full merits of the law thinks Justice H. J. Brown.

To confirm his convictions in terms of the state penal laws, Justice Brown bound Roy Buster, an alleged horse thief, over to await the action of the district court and placed his bond at $2000 in two charges involved.

Buster, who claims to be a resident of Coal county, was arrested last week on a charge of stealing a horse from a man living in this county and on a second offense of stealing a saddle, bridle and blanket for his confiscated bit of horse flesh.

In a preliminary hearing today, Justice Brown slapped the heavy bond over the accused and remanded him to the county jail when he was unable to secure bondsmen.

The grand larceny charges against Buster are punishable by penitentiary sentence on conviction.

Radio Claims Following in Ada Residences

Within the three years since the first real radio set was installed in Ada and the secrets of the air plucked from the ether for the first time here, the growth of popularity of the sport of juggling stations and programs has been steady.

Following the setting up by Fred Ford three years ago of his first radio station there was an epidemic of homemade sets assembled by mechanically turned boys who were eager to test out the wonders of the latest scientific invention. Many of these smaller sets developed some degree of success and inspired a general interest in the sport.

Although the made-up sets gave much satisfaction and proved that there was such a thing as radio their range was not sufficient to reach the larger and more distant stations.

As a result there grew up a steady demand for more efficient sets with longer ranges. Companies manufacturing radio materials began better and more convenient sets, at the same time reducing the cost to a minimum.

And now the radio has become an accomplished thing: Ada is full of sets, aeriels and other appurtenances and there is a steady demand for parts and sets.

Dealers here estimate that there are between 150 and 200 sets in Ada. The winter months, with confining weather, provided the real radio season with better conditions for the receiving of the air messages and entertainments.

The summer is marked by a drop in the number of sets installed but on the occasions of prize fights and important ball games the larger sets are crowded with devotees of sport.

Oil Operators Bear Million Dollar Loss In Recent Tornado

(By the Associated Press)
TULSA, April 5.—Oil operators suffered a loss of more than $1,000,000 as a result of the recent wind storm that swept Oklahoma, according to an announcement of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association.

A total of 765 derricks and rigs were wrecked, the report said, and of these, most were on producing wells. The Tonkawa field was the heaviest loser. More than 400 rigs went down there before the heavy wind, the association said.

The Burbank pool was hard hit but not so seriously as other fields farther to the east, the report indicated.

Fields near Okfuskee and Okmulgee were heavy losers, and the oil men say there are few rigs available to replace those destroyed.

Most of the new equipment that could have been rushed to the fields has been brought up for the new Burbank locations, the producers say.

Despite the storm, however, the increase in production for the week was more than 400 barrels greater than the preceding week, the report said.

SPAVINAW LAKE NOW REALITY FOR TULSA

TULSA.—Spavinaw lake is a reality. What was a wide expanse of naked ground, less than three weeks ago, is now a five-mile-long body of water, 50 feet deep in places, and with its surface whipped into imposing waves by the Oklahoma spring winds.

The monster artificial lake was created so rapidly that Tulsans can scarcely realize it, by simply closing the gates in the big dam and letting the Spavinaw creek do the rest. And the Spavinaw has done its part so well that it has forever set at rest all fear that it could not fill the lake at the rate which Tulsa might require sometime in the future.

A billion gallons of water a day have been flowing into the lake ever since the gates were closed. W. R. Holway, the engineer in charge of the Spavinaw project declares that the reservoir could be emptied and filled to overflowing again, long before the city will need it.

The water is now only about four feet below the level of the spillway and within the next few days water will be dashing over the dam.

Nine Arrests on Police Docket in Week-end Cleanup

Nine arrests by the police department today registered the largest total of week-end law violators during the year, it was stated after police court this morning.

The nine arrests and convictions in city court, consisted of a wide range of ordinance violations, including fighting, drunkenness, gaming, possession of whisky.

The most important event of the police court week-ends was the closing of one house, alleged to have harbored immoral conditions. Seven arrests reported Saturday morning, running the total up to 16 arrests since Saturday.

WINN-COCHRAN

The marriage of Judge U. G. Winn and Mrs. E. L. Cochran was solemnized Thursday evening at the First Christian church parsonage. Rev. Wallace, pastor of the church performing the ceremony. They are residing at 607 East Main.

Both of the contracting parties have lived here many years and have always had a host of friends. Judge Winn is a pioneer of the Territory and a resident of Ada since its early days, having held the offices of United States commissioner and postmaster during this time.

The Fall of the Year.

The senate has fallen and great was the fall.
On the slippery floor of the senate hall.
The floor was slick and smeared with oil.
So the fall was terrific, but oh, the recoil.

It knocked all the edge off of Mr. Coolidge.

And made Mr. Daugherty forget his pledge.
It spoiled the "doo" in Mr. McAdoo.
And made his prospects look awfully blue.

The accused of the senate said it wasn't fair.
And said that the "sin" was in Mr. Sinclair.
But the story goes the round, and is believed by many.
That they all took "dough" from Mr. Dougherty.

—Rev. O. C. Fontaine, Durant.

"BLUE LAWS" NOT UNKNOWN IN COW TRAIL DAYS OF ADA

It is a misdemeanor to pour on "bi sulphide of carbon" or high-life on any animal within the premises of Ada.

The traffic was also regulated in regard to passenger trains, setting their pace at seven miles an hour and at the same time safeguarding the town's population which gathered at the depot at regular intervals by placing a city ordinance against any person, not an employee boarding a moving train.

All these ordinances are now obsolete documents in the mass of books doomed to a cobweb grave far back in the vault of the city clerk's office and in their stead new ones have been brought out as time moulded its stamp on the city of Ada—but the few pioneers who knew of their jurisdiction in the cow-trail days of the Old Indian Territory may vouch that they were "darn good ones" in their day.

Business Matters To be Discussed At Vets Meeting

An entertainment and business program will be the ration of Buddies who attend the regular meeting of the Norman Howard post, American Legion Tuesday night, according to the announcement of Commander Robert S. Kerr.

The progress of committees making plans for the departmental convention here in July will be heard at the Tuesday night and further plans for receiving state Buddies will be discussed.

Kerr announced that an entertainment of some sort would be figured before the meeting is officially called to order.

Albino Deer Not So Rare.

(By the Associated Press)

WEAVERVILLE, Cal., April 6.—The recent report of a white or albino deer, seen near here, has brought statements from sportsmen that albino deer were not so rare as people generally believe.

Indians on the Hoopa reservation have a considerable accumulation of white deer skins. They pay large sums to acquire these skins for use as ceremonial robes. This is said to have provided an unfortunate incentive for the destruction of the unusual deer in this region of northern California.

Rev. F. E. Teague, pastor of the mission will have charge of the preliminary services. It is hoped that many of the members of the First Baptist church will attend the meeting.

JUDGE SENTENCES TWO BOYS TO BE SPANKED

EUFAULA, April 6.—"If they will agree to come back here next Monday and prove to me that they have been spanked I will parole them," said Judge Harvey Melton, regarding two boys, Silas Wilson and Crawford Sisk, 16 and 18 years old, for whom their attorneys asked a suspended sentence. They appeared before the judge Wednesday and pleaded guilty to stealing some goods from a store at Cathay, where they live. Judge Melton did not stipulate who should do the spanking nor what evidence was necessary to convince him that they had been "spanked."

Poland to Complete Her Port.

(By the Associated Press)
WARSAW.—The Polish government has decided to complete the construction of the port of Gdynia, work on which was suspended during the economy campaign.

French, Hungarian and Polish firms have tendered contracts and it is expected that the docks will be ready for service within two years. The establishment of the port at Gdynia will avoid using Danzig and provide an all-Polish port for Polish sea trade.

Minnows to Destroy Mosquitos.

(By the Associated Press)
OROVILLE, Cal., April 7.—Butte county, in central California, has employed Gambusia minnows to destroy mosquitoes. These tiny fish placed in irrigation ditches, ponds and lakes, eliminate the mosquitoes at their breeding places. Mosquitoes had become a nuisance in this region, but since the minnows were planted the pest has diminished rapidly.

Took President Lincoln To The Enemy's Trenches

To have the honor of escorting the President of the United States and his wife to within sight of a hostile army, and stand by his side as he calmly surveyed the entrenched enemy, is an experience that will come to few men in history, yet that is exactly what fell to the lot of Major E. T. Ellis, now residing at 503 South Eighth street, St. Joseph, Mo., one of the city's most prominent and picturesque figures.

The President was none other than Abraham Lincoln and the scene of this interesting episode was near Richmond, Virginia.

Major Ellis, who was an aide to General Grant, tells an interesting story of Lincoln's visit and of the climax to the Richmond campaign, which he witnessed.

Major Ellis says Mr. Lincoln showed no signs of uneasiness when inspecting the Confederate trenches although they were within easy artillery range.

Recently Major Ellis' usual robust health failed him and for several weeks he was unable to walk about town and visit his friends as usual. That he is again in sturdy health he attributes entirely to Karnak, the sensational new medicine recently introduced here. "I can say without fear or favor that Karnak put me back on my feet," declares Major Ellis. "I simply feel like the medicine has given me a new lease on life and I never tire of recommending it. My whole system was 'shot to pieces.' I was suffering from high blood pressure, disordered kidneys, weak, dizzy spells, and a bad case of nervous indigestion that seemed nothing could help. I also had severe pains through my back and shoulders and neck, which I suppose was a kind of rheumatism. Anyway, nothing helped me a particle and I was in just about as bad a fix as I was when I was wounded and captured by the Johnny Rebs at Petersburg. But Karnak took right hold of my troubles and soon put me in fine shape again. For the first time in weeks I am able to walk down town and visit with my friends. All my life I have liked to help people and I don't know any better way to do it than tell them about Karnak. It is the most wonderful medicine I ever saw."

Major Ellis has lived in St. Joseph for the past forty years and numbers his friends by the thousands. Scores of them are congratulating him on his renewed health.

Karnak is sold in Ada exclusively at Gwin & Mays.

Coughing only aggravates a cough

Control coughing—the first step in curing a cough.

COUGHS are frequently due merely to irritation caused by a congested condition of throat and lung tissue. Persistent hacking will then only increase the congestion and continue the cough indefinitely. Such coughs can and should be stopped at once because they are a futile waste of strength. Dr. King's New Discovery checks coughing quickly and without any bad after-effects. It quiets violent throat and lung spasms and gives the congestion a chance to clear away. It has an agreeable taste. All druggists.
